U.S. Judge Denies Delay in Little Rock Race Order

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge Harry J. Lemley today denied a motion to stay his own order of Saturday which suspended integration in Little Rock schools for 2 1/2 years.

The judge said that to grant a stay would keep the racial situation at Central High School intolerable because too much time would be consumed in processing a Negro appeal of his order.

Little Rock Shocks Negro

Leaders of Race Give Views to President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Negro leaders today told President Eisenhower that court-ordered suspension of school integration at Little Rock, Ark., has shocked and outraged Negroes in America.

At a White House conference with Eisenhower, the Negroes said the court decision handed down last weekend is being construed, rightly or wrongly, as a green light to lawless elements in defiance of federal authority.

The views of the Negro leaders were set forth in a prepared statement, which was handed to newsmen after their 45-minute meeting with the President.

A. Philip Randolph, president of the International Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, said that Eisenhower made no comment on the court ruling by U.S. Dist. Judge Harry Lemley.

Randolph added that neither did Eisenhower make any promise with respect to a nine-point program offered by the Negro leaders with a view to improving the conditions of their people.

IMMEDIATE emphasis was on the Little Rock situation and school integration, but the Negro leaders had made it plain in advance they would raise a wide range of civil rights issues.

Among other things, the Negro delegation urged Eisenhower to order the Justice Department to intervene in the Little Rock case as a friend of the court.

At today's White House conference in addition to Randolph were Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People; Lester B. Granger, executive secretary of the National Urban League; and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., of Montgomery, Ala., president of the Southern Leadership Conference and leader of the Montgomery bus boycott.

All four of the Negro leaders said Eisenhower listened very sympathetically to their presentation, but took no side with respect to any part of the specific program they set forth.

"We tried to impress on him that the colored people are frustrated and angry," Wilkins said.

"We think the President understands a little bit better the mood of the colored people of the country. And the face-to-face observations helped us to understand him a little better."

5 Die in Beirut From Bomb Blast

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — A bomb exploded in a bustling shopping area of Beirut today, killing five persons including a woman and her child.

The bomb went off just opposite the fruit bazaar in downtown Beirut. An empty bus parked at the curb shielded many shoppers and reduced the casualty toll.

The bombing came after several days of relative calm in the Lebanese capital while U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld was conferring here with government officials. Hammarskjöld left Saturday for Cairo but is to return Tuesday.

National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, who made the motion, said he planned to telephone the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals at St. Louis and ask for instructions on appealing the integration suspension order. He already had filed a notice of appeal here.

"I don't know at this point exactly how this is going to be handled," Branton reported. "I may have to go to the chief circuit judge's home."

THE LITTLE Rock School Board opposed Branton's motion for a stay on ground it would be in the interest of the Negro pupils, only, not the public.

Lemley, in a written opinion, which was issued after a brief recess of the hearing, said: "To grant this motion and stay the enforcement of our judgment would to a large extent nullify our order in the cause since it will in all probability take months to carry the case through the Court of Appeals and the U.S. Supreme Court."

"And in the meantime, the situation at Central High School, which we have found to be intolerable from an educational standpoint, would continue," he said.

A stay by any of the courts, Branton said, would mean that the racial situation at Central High would be just as it was when the 1957-58 school year ended.

In granting the school board's petition for a delay of integration until mid-semester 1961, Judge Lemley conceded that "the Negro students in Little Rock district have a constitutional right not to be excluded from any of the public schools in account of race; but the board has convincingly shown that the time for the enjoyment of that right has not yet come."

LEMLEY, in a 35-page opinion Saturday, said his ruling did not constitute yielding to unlawful force or violence but was an exercise of discretion and good judgment. A breathing spell could permit a change in community attitude and easing of racial tensions which might smooth integration at the later date, he said.

The judge noted too that Horace Mann High School for Negroes here was considered on a par with Central High and thus the seven Negroes could still obtain a good high school education.

The school board based its plea for postponement on grounds that tensions, violence and the presence of federal troops had made its gradual plan for desegregation unworkable at this time.

NAGY REPERCUSSIONS MOUNT

Second Ike Aide Eyed by Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Morgan Moulder (D-Mo) suggested today that House investigators call Gerald D. Morgan, President Eisenhower's special counsel, saying: "From what I hear, Mr. Morgan is more of a front man than Mr. Adams."

Moulder said he understands Morgan is more accessible than Sherman Adams to persons seeking help from the White House. Moulder did not go into detail.

Morgan declined comment on Moulder's remarks.

In reply to a question, Morgan said he had received no overtures regarding testimony by him.

A House subcommittee, of which Moulder is a member, resumes hearings Tuesday on contacts admittedly made by Adams, Eisenhower's top assistant, with two regulatory agencies on behalf of Bernard Goldfine, a millionaire Boston industrialist.

Adams, the center of a growing political storm, acknowledged accepting hotel hospitality and gifts from Goldfine.

ALTHOUGH conceding he was imprudent, Adams has denied seeking or getting any favored treatment for Goldfine, who was having troubles with the Federal Trade Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

There was no sign Eisenhower has changed his stated intention to retain Adams, whom he has described as a man of honesty.

But that didn't stem the rising volume of demands that Adams step down. Some of the strongest demands have come from Republicans.

Morgan appeared as Adams' legal adviser when Adams appeared before the subcommittee last Tuesday.

Adams has informed the subcommittee that at his request, Morgan made contact with the SEC to obtain information about a matter involving Goldfine.

He said Goldfine complained to him about some SEC actions in the case of the East Boston Co., a Goldfine holding firm accused of not filing required financial reports in 1948-1955.

Adams said Morgan obtained the information from Thomas C. Meeker, SEC's general counsel, but asked for no favors. The information was not passed on to Goldfine, Adams said, and Meeker was not informed of Adams' interest in it.

The SEC said last week it pressed the East Boston case even after the White House inquiry. The Goldfine holding company was fined $3,000 and is now filing the required reports on schedule.

Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark), chairman of the investigating subcommittee, said the record developed so far shows that Goldfine received preferential treatment from both the SEC and the FTC.

U.S. Education Reform Urged

More Than Money Said Needed in Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — A two-year study concludes that a full-scale reform movement is needed to raise American education standards to the needs of modern times.

A report by the Rockefeller Brothers Fund, Inc., called Sunday for immediate changes in the nation's educational system — not just more money.

The report echoed oft-repeated statements that American schools are overcrowded, understaffed and ill-equipped. It said the basic problem is one of providing more money but that other things must be done too.

The report suggested these steps:

1. Testing and guidance procedures must be strengthened to push along more talented students who may be held back by average or slow groups.

2. Some educational problems "gravely affecting the national interest" may require a helping hand from the federal government.

3. NATIONAL leaders must grasp the scope of the job that lies ahead.

"Perhaps the greatest problem facing American education is the widely held view that all we require are a few more teachers, a few more buildings, a little more money," said the report.

The crisis in science education, the report said, "is not an invention of the newspapers, or scientists or the Pentagon. It is a real crisis."

It has all been brought about, the group said, by man's swift plunge into a new technological era that is bringing changes "so startling as to test to the utmost our adaptive capacities, our stability and our wisdom."

Safe Crackers Unsuccessful at Mavis Station

The Pickaway County Sheriff's Department is investigating an unsuccessful safe cracking job at the Fred Mavis service station, corner Mound and Main Sts., sometime Saturday night.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff said the yeggs used a hammer on the dial of the Mavis safe and used a drill on the combination, but were unable to crack it.

Entry was made into the place by forcing a window on the north side of the station. The attempted safe cracking job was discovered by Mavis when he opened up for business at 6:30 a. m. Sunday.

Kingston Boy Shot in Face

Freddie Tilton In Good Condition

Freddie Tilton, 15, Route 2, Kingston, was accidentally shot in the face at 5:30 p. m. Saturday while on a ground hog hunting expedition in Hocking County.

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Tilton, Route 2, Kingston, is reported in satisfactory condition in University Hospital, Columbus.

A brother, Theodore Tilton, told the sheriff's deputies that he, Freddie, a friend, Aukie Fisher, 13, Route 4, Chillicothe, and Theodore's 2 1/2-year-old son were on the hunting jaunt.

He said he pulled up in front of a junk yard at Buena Vista, in Hocking County, to talk to a man. He heard a shot come from the car, saw Freddie get out and lay down along side the car, his face bleeding. Theodore related that a .22 caliber rifle, used in hunting ground hogs and for target practice, had been in the front seat of the car, butt down and barrel pointed at the roof.

Fisher, who had been lying down in the rear seat, said Freddie had been playing with a rifle shortly before it discharged.

THE BOY WAS taken to Laurelville, then to Berger Hospital. He then was transferred to University Hospital. The ambulance broke down on High St. and Columbus Police took him the balance of the way.

The rifle bullet is reported to have entered the boy's face near the mouth and came out near his ear.

Toledoans Held, Shoot Student

TOLEDO (AP) — Two Toledo men were arrested Sunday night in connection with the robbery and shooting of an Antioch College student.

Shot twice in the head during a robbery, Eugene Greathouse, 25, was reported in critical condition today in a Toledo hospital.

Charged with armed robbery were Brady Banks, 22, and Paul Davis, 28.

Greathouse and a companion, Arthur Clink, 22, of Roseville, Mich., drove from Detroit to Toledo Saturday night in Greathouse's car, police said. They picked up two men at the bus station and went for a ride.

Clink, who identified Banks and Davis today, said the pair pulled a gun and forced them out of the car about 20 miles southwest of here. They forced their victims to strip, robbed Greathouse of $64 and then shot him, Clink said.

The robbers drove off. Clink walked to a nearby farmhouse and summoned police.

Greathouse has been working in Detroit as part of a work-study program of Antioch College at Yellow Springs.

A 22-year-old Route 3 woman was reported in good condition today at Berger Hospital. She suffered injuries when her car ran off the road and overturned in Darby Twp. at 7:25 p. m. Saturday.

She was taken to Berger Hospital suffering from cuts on the face and mouth and broken teeth.

Record Offsets GOP Claim Ike Needs a GOP Congress

By JACK BELL
AP Political Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members from both parties apparently are making it difficult for Republicans to build up the campaign theme that President Eisenhower needs a GOP Congress to get his legislative program approved.

The contention that the Democrats in Congress are hamstringing the President's proposals has been one of the main talking points of GOP National Chairman Meade ALCORN. Eisenhower himself used practically the same argument in an informal talk to the GOP state chairmen last Thursday.

But the Democrats and the Republicans are marking up a voting record in Congress that seems unlikely to sustain the GOP campaign argument.

For instance, unless all the signs fail, Senate Democrats will have to furnish the lion's share of votes if Eisenhower's request for a five-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act is approved.

Just as Republicans provided much of the opposition in the House, so the Senate finds its two top Republican leaders aligned against Eisenhower.

SENATORS Styles Bridges (R-NH) and William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) are leading a drive to cut the extension to three years.

10-Day Tryst Is Ended for Jersey Kids

KEARNY, N. J. (AP) — A pretty high school girl and her teenage boy friend were back in their separate homes today after a 10-day stay in a Southern hotel.

Helen Jones, 16, and David Horne, 17, parted at a detention home in Petersburg, Va., Sunday with an embrace, a kiss and a whispered vow.

Then, in turn, they were taken in tow by their shocked parents. The youngsters had been the object of a 13-state police alarm since June 11, when they disappeared from their New Jersey homes.

The blonde girl and her handsome boy friend had met at the Second Presbyterian Church in Newark and had been going together for more than a year. David was an Explorer Scout and his scoutmaster is Francis Jones, Helen's father.

Police found the couple registered as man and wife in a Petersburg hotel.

"We love each other," they told authorities.

Their youth had prevented them from carrying out their plan to get married, they said.

Pro and Con Demonstrations Being Staged

New York, Moscow See Violence from Both Sides of Fuss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Repercussions from the execution of Imre Nagy, leader of the ill-fated 1956 Hungarian rebellion, are growing violent—on both sides of the dispute.

In Moscow, where Soviet leaders fingered the execution demonstrators attacked the West German embassy in retaliation for a German demonstration in Bonn last week.

In New York, Hungarian refugees smashed windows of the headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations.

In Ottawa, Canada about 320 Hungarian refugees splattered the Soviet Embassy with red ink as they paraded in protest of the executions.

And in Warsaw, the Polish Communist party today was reported ready to protest within the inner circles of the Communist bloc against the execution of Nagy and other leaders of the Hungarian revolt.

THERE APPEARED no likelihood, however, that Polish party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka would make a public complaint that would bring Moscow's wrath down on him.

Informants said Gomulka's opposition to the executions was made clear in private speeches by Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki and Roman Zambrowski, both members of the Polish Politburo.

In the Moscow demonstration, more than 1,000 banner-waving Russians attacked the West German Embassy with stones, sticks and ink bottles today.

The demonstrators marched toward the Embassy from several directions. They seemed well organized. Suddenly they started throwing stones and bricks, smashing Embassy windows.

Then came a barrage of ink bottles that splattered bright blue ink on the gray Embassy walls. Some of the bottles sailed through broken windows and crashed on the floor inside. The crowd was in a vicious mood.

Yank's Yacht Drifts Near China Coast

TOKYO (AP) — All Japanese fishing vessels in the East China Sea were ordered to look out today for an American yacht which may be drifting near the Communist Chinese mainland with Hollywood actor John Calvert and four others aboard.

The 95-ton, two-masted Thespian of Los Angeles, owned and skippered by Calvert, left Keelung, Formosa, in bad weather last Monday. The actor expected to reach Japan Thursday or Friday. The yacht had just been fitted with a new engine and Calvert sailed against the advice of friends.

On Friday a vessel similar to the white yacht was sighted by a Japanese trawler only 80 miles southeast of Shanghai. It was reported drifting northwest in a calm sea halfway between Formosa and the Thespian's destination in southern Japan.

The report did not alarm Japanese coast guard officials. They said the vessel may reach southern Japan in a day or two.

Calvert is a former stage magician who played the Falcon on television and movie heavy roles.

Ike Asks OK For A-Power Plants Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today called on Congress for swift approval of a multi-million-dollar international agreement providing for construction of six major nuclear power reactors in Europe by 1963.

Terminating the project urgent, Eisenhower sent the lawmakers a special message asking for approval at this session.

The President described the program as "a first step toward mutually beneficial cooperation in the peaceful applications of atomic energy."

Under the program, the United States would sell to the six nations in the European Atomic Community about 30,000 kilograms of uranium 235. The present price for that much of the material is about $480 million.

The $350 million cost of the construction of the nuclear power reactors will be borne by the European nations, the White House said, with provision by the United States, through the Export-Import Bank, for a long term line of credit up to 135 million dollars.

The European countries and the United States also plan to establish a jointly financed research and development program to improve the performance of the reactors. There was no information on the cost of that phase of the program.

Then, in turn, they were taken in tow by their shocked parents.

The youngsters had been the object of a 13-state police alarm since June 11, when they disappeared from their New Jersey homes.

The blonde girl and her handsome boy friend had met at the Second Presbyterian Church in Newark and had been going together for more than a year. David was an Explorer Scout and his scoutmaster is Francis Jones, Helen's father.

Police found the couple registered as man and wife in a Petersburg hotel.

"We love each other," they told authorities.

Their youth had prevented them from carrying out their plan to get married, they said.

Flivver Plane Pilot Nearing Sicily Goal

PARIS (AP) — A light plane flown across the Atlantic by 55-year-old Max Conrad passed over the Mediterranean island of Elba today and headed toward a landing at Palermo, Sicily.

From Elba, between Italy and Corsica, the Winona, Minn., grandfater faced a flight of less than 400 miles to reach his destination.

Conrad left New York's Idlewild Airport Sunday morning hoping to make the 4,400-mile trip in about 33 hours. He has flown the Atlantic 39 times in light planes.

Little U.S. Pigs Attract Poles

POZNAN, Poland (AP) — Ten little pigs proved the star attraction of the U.S. exhibit at the Poznan Trade Fair. At times they won more visitors than the two giant Sputniks in the rival Soviet pavilion.

More than half a million Poles visited the U.S. pavilion before the fair closed Sunday. They saw American production line methods in action and their first color TV.

But the old rural pastime of leaning on a rail and looking at hogs held its own against the marvels of science. Some animal fans stood for hours watching one pen of piglets with a new-style mechanical feeder and another family with an old-style sow.

Pro and Con Demonstrations Being Staged

New York, Moscow See Violence from Both Sides of Fuss

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Repercussions from the execution of Imre Nagy, leader of the ill-fated 1956 Hungarian rebellion, are growing violent—on both sides of the dispute.

In Moscow, where Soviet leaders fingered the execution demonstrators attacked the West German embassy in retaliation for a German demonstration in Bonn last week.

In New York, Hungarian refugees smashed windows of the headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations.

In Ottawa, Canada about 320 Hungarian refugees splattered the Soviet Embassy with red ink as they paraded in protest of the executions.

And in Warsaw, the Polish Communist party today was reported ready to protest within the inner circles of the Communist bloc against the execution of Nagy and other leaders of the Hungarian revolt.

THERE APPEARED no likelihood, however, that Polish party leader Wladyslaw Gomulka would make a public complaint that would bring Moscow's wrath down on him.

Informants said Gomulka's opposition to the executions was made clear in private speeches by Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki and Roman Zambrowski, both members of the Polish Politburo.

In the Moscow demonstration, more than 1,000 banner-waving Russians attacked the West German Embassy with stones, sticks and ink bottles today.

The demonstrators marched toward the Embassy from several directions. They seemed well organized. Suddenly they started throwing stones and bricks, smashing Embassy windows.

Then came a barrage of ink bottles that splattered bright blue ink on the gray Embassy walls. Some of the bottles sailed through broken windows and crashed on the floor inside. The crowd was in a vicious mood.

Yank's Yacht Drifts Near China Coast

TOKYO (AP) — All Japanese fishing vessels in the East China Sea were ordered to look out today for an American yacht which may be drifting near the Communist Chinese mainland with Hollywood actor John Calvert and four others aboard.

The 95-ton, two-masted Thespian of Los Angeles, owned and skippered by Calvert, left Keelung, Formosa, in bad weather last Monday. The actor expected to reach Japan Thursday or Friday. The yacht had just been fitted with a new engine and Calvert sailed against the advice of friends.

On Friday a vessel similar to the white yacht was sighted by a Japanese trawler only 80 miles southeast of Shanghai. It was reported drifting northwest in a calm sea halfway between Formosa and the Thespian's destination in southern Japan.

The report did not alarm Japanese coast guard officials. They said the vessel may reach southern Japan in a day or two.

Calvert is a former stage magician who played the Falcon on television and movie heavy roles.

and a number of pickets were injured, none seriously.

The violent outbreak came, police said, at what appeared to be a prearranged signal. It turned into a melee between 350 pickets and nearly 100 policemen. Nine pickets were arrested.

DEMONSTRATORS had been peacefully marching and handing out leaflets of the Federation of Former Hungarian Political Prisoners before the violence erupted.

This was the second outbreak of violence at the Manhattan building over the weekend. Anti-Soviet pickets broke two windows Saturday and three arrests followed.

Both demonstrations were to protest the execution of Nagy and three of his associates, announced in Moscow last week.

Seven pickets arrested on disorderly conduct charges received suspended sentences after pleading guilty in court.

They received a warning from Magistrate Vincent J. Ferreri to "follow the American way of life."

Rebel Force Says Jakarta Defeated

MANILA (AP)—The Indonesian rebel radio today claimed its forces had thrown back the Jakarta government's invaders in the North Celebes. The broadcast said 70 Jakarta soldiers were killed in one fight.

The broadcast tended to bear out a report from reliable military sources in Jakarta earlier today that the invasion force was still fighting for control of Menado, the last rebel stronghold in the North Celebes. The government radio in the South Celebes had announced Saturday that Menado had fallen but this was not confirmed officially in Jakarta.

Industrials Take Stock Mart Losses

NEW YORK (AP)—Industrials took losses as the stock market declined in moderate trading early this afternoon. Key stocks dropped from fractions to about a point.

Steels, motors, chemicals, oils and nonferrous metals were mainly in the downside. Rails were narrowly mixed. Utilities edged off irregularly.

Airlines presented a string of small plus signs as earnings were reported improved.

American Motors was actively traded and down around a point. The market was backgrounded by uncertainties about the steel price as well as prospects for a summer downturn in production of steel; and also by a reported decline in machine tool orders.

Gains of about a point were made by Lorillard, Goodyear and Standard Packaging. American Tobacco, Boeing and Schenley made fractional gains. United Air Lines and Eastern were firm.

U.S. Steel and Youngstown Sheet were down about a point each while Republic Steel and Bethlehem lost fractions. Major automotive stocks showed little change. A loss of about a point by Anaconda and a good-sized fraction by Phelps Dodge highlighted the metals. Kennecott, International Nickel and American Smelting showed scant change.

Standard Oil (N.J.) dropped about a point. Texas Co. and Royal Dutch lost fractions.

U.S. government bonds drifted lower in quiet dealings over the counter.

Legislators Expect No SUB Action in Special Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Legislative leaders expect the special session to approve extra state jobless payments without acting on Supplemental Unemployment Benefit (SUB).

Only a surprise revolt in majority Republican ranks apparently could upset that expectation in the session opening at 2 p. m. EST Wednesday.

House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) and Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), Senate majority leader, stand firm against any enactment on SUB.

They indicated that Democrats and other proponents of SUB could talk their heads off in the expected three-day session without hope of getting anywhere.

GOP Gov. C. William O'Neill kept hands off the politically explosive issue. The executive omitted SUB from his call for action on four major matters — jobless benefits, more poor relief money, an interstate highway billboard ban and sewer and water line extensions.

But he said SUB could be considered under his request to extend the state's 26-week jobless benefit limit to 39 weeks, setting the stage for SUB fireworks. Democratic leaders said they will caucus in advance of the session to map strategy.

Republicans dominate both houses despite the death of a GOP senator and two representatives since the regular 1957 session ended last June. Democrats still are outnumbered 95-42 in the House and 21-12 in the Senate.

Anticipating a temporary 13-week extension of benefits, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation is preparing to pay out nearly a million dollars to first applicants.

An emergency bill drafted for the Administration would become effective upon enactment. The measure calls for extended payments to workers reaching the end of their 26-week period between June 30, 1957, and April 1, 1959, if still unemployed. Extended payments would start after the new law becomes effective. They would be paid from the state's $43 million dollar unemployment trust fund instead of from federal loans.

The program permits workers eligible for extended benefits to receive a maximum of $507 in addition to their 26-week payments. The state benefit maximum is $39 a week for a worker with a family.

Terming it only a guess, officials figure that 25,000 to 30,000 may apply for extended benefits the first week. State jobless payments average $34 a week. Multiplication puts the expected total between $850,000 and $1,020,000 a week.

The bureau estimated that some 50,000 workers already have exhausted their state benefits. But officials expect about half that number may have obtained jobs or left the labor market, making them ineligible for benefits, although figures are unavailable.

The State Advisory Council on Unemployment Compensation anticipates that benefit exhaustions during 1959 may exceed the high of 114,000 in 1950.

Reports show that about 200,000 of the 2,600,000 Ohio workers covered by unemployment insurance currently are receiving state benefits.

Widow's Rights Are Explained

Pay Boosts Dump Indemnity Checks

Questions of interest to ex-service men should be given to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer, Jim Shea. His offices are in the basement of the Courthouse in Circleville.)

By JIM SHEA

Before we get into this week's questions and answers, I feel that I should clarify one of the questions in my last column that was a little misleading. It has to do with the rights of a widow to elect indemnity compensation under the Survivor Benefits Act, or death compensation.

At the present time, a widow has no choice. She must take indemnity compensation. However, if her husband died before Jan. 1, 1957, she did have a choice. If, at the time of that choice, she elected death compensation, she had the right, at any later date, to change to indemnity compensation. Once she elects indemnity compensation, she never has the right to change back to death compensation.

Q — In note in the paper that Congress has recently passed a law to grant an increase to the men and women in active service. Does this have any bearing on the amount of money being paid to a widow who is receiving indemnity compensation?

A — It certainly does. The laws governing indemnity compensation states that the widow will be paid a certain per cent of the pay that her husband held at the time of his death in service, or at the time of his separation from the service. If the Armed Forces grants an increase in her indemnity compensation.

Q — I am a World War I veteran and am receiving a Total Non-Service Connected Pension in the amount of $66.15. Is it true that this pension cannot be increased to $78.75 until I reach the age of 65?

A — That is not true. A veteran an receiving $66.15 Total Non-Service Connected Pension is entitled to an increase to $78.75 per month after he has received it for 10 continuous years, or when he reaches the age of 65, whichever comes first.

Q — I AM A WORLD War II veteran and am receiving a Service Connected Compensation. I understand that there is a new law which states that if I expect to continue to receive this compensation that I must have an income of under $2,700 if I am married. Is that true?

A — No. A veteran receiving a Service Connected Compensation has no income limitation. He can have any income he is capable of earning, and it will have no bearing whatsoever on his compensation. That income limitation refers only to those veterans receiving Total Non Service Connected Pensions, and it is not a new law, it has been in effect for as long as I can remember.

Q — How long does a Korean veteran have to apply for a GI Loan.

A — A Korean veteran has till Jan. 31, 1965 to apply for a GI Loan.

in the steel, rubber, automotive and other major industries are eligible for SUB in addition to state benefits under private union-employer contracts.

SUB contracts are intended to augment state benefits so that covered workers can draw about two-thirds of their take-home pay while jobless. Workers in eight Ohio plants draw SUB under contracts sanctioned by the state.

SUB payments in other plants are held up because of adverse state administrative rulings. Those rulings says most SUB contracts fail to comply with law and thus SUB payments must be deducted from state benefits.

The Steelworker Union challenged the ruling. Lower courts said jobless workers could receive SUB and state benefits at the same time. The state appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court for a final decision, expected next fall.

Backed up are some 15 million dollars in SUB funds which an estimated 40,000 workers could share immediately if the Legislature approves. Continuing payments would run about a million dollars a week, reports to the governor showed. Union figures ran higher.

That situation assured considerable pressure on the special session for action to release SUB payments. Legislative leaders insist union-company pacts to conform their SUB contracts with Ohio law would be an easier way.

O'Neill will disclose how much extra poor relief money is needed in his message at the session's opening. He plans to deliver the message in person. The governor declined to say whether he will open the session to further business at that time.

Various interests have urged removal of the $65 monthly old age pension ceiling, an increase in courthouse fees and other matters.

The state already has dipped into next year's welfare appropriation to continue dollar-for-dollar matching of county poor relief expenditures through April. More will be needed for the rest of the bookkeeping year ended June 30.

The last Legislature appropriated 24 million dollars for poor relief in the two-year period ended in mid-1959. This year's appropriation ran out last March. Finance Director John A. Skipton says the state is spending at the rate of 16 million dollars a year for poor relief.

Reports showed an estimated 160,500 Ohioans on poor relief last month compared with 80,000 during May a year ago. Conditions resulting from the recession caused the increase.

Special session action is expected to give a go ahead signal for some 23 million dollars worth of sewer and water line extensions outside cities. A law enacted by the last Legislature has stymied projects in Cleveland, Akron, Dayton, Cincinnati, and other metropolitan areas.

Bond counsel withheld approval of bond issues to finance the projects because rentals from users were required to pay half the retirement costs under the new law. Changes to permit full assessments for bond retirement are expected as a solution.

Approval of a billboard ban along 1,400 miles of interstate highways in Ohio would make the state eligible for extra federal funds to build throughways. The governor proposes a ban on signs,

Columbus Man Shoots Wife, House Guest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—While Jessie Ben Zeigler's wife sagged critically wounded into a policeman's arms Sunday, Zeigler shot and killed a house guest.

The 63-year-old Zeigler is being held in city prison today. Police say he has admitted firing the shots that took the life of Jessie Collins, 38, and sent Zeigler's wife, Bernice, 38, to Mercy Hospital in critical condition.

Minutes before the shots were fired, police had searched Zeigler's house in a fruitless effort to find the gun that fired the shots.

Police said Mrs. Zeigler called them to the house and told them her husband had loaded a revolver after a family quarrel.

When police could not find the gun, they started to leave. Patrolman George Vest said Mrs. Zeigler asked to leave with the officers and as she turned away from Vest, she was shot.

She fell into Vest's arms, the patrolman said. Police said that before they could stop him, Zeigler raced to a second floor bedroom and shot the sleeping Collins.

Police said Zeigler told them he shot his wife because she failed to prepare his noon meal Saturday. Zeigler said he shot Collins because the man had failed to leave his home.

Girls' State Gets Start

Ohio Lassies Learn Tricks of Politics

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The battle for political supremacy of the mythical 49th state — Buckeye Girls' State—began in earnest today.

Out of Sunday's caucuses of the Nationalist and Federalist parties came the narrowed field of candidates who will compete for state office nominations in Tuesday's primary. They filed petitions today.

The whole idea, of course, is to teach 806 high school girls from 85 of Ohio's 88 counties how state government works. Guided by members of the American Legion Auxiliary and alumnae of other Girls' States, the girls are operating their own government from the city level on up.

Ann Cook, 17, of Willoughby, explained how it feels to be a candidate. A candidate for governor herself, she declared:

"It's a challenge. I might as well give it a try."

Her motto: "With me, the cookie won't crumble."

Two girls won't be able to vote. They are Inger Olsen, 17, of Wickliffe, a Norwegian by birth, who cannot become a citizen until she reaches 18, and Maureen Gilway, 16, formerly of England and now from Huntsburg in Geauga County.

As non-citizens, they won't be allowed to hold office, either, but both expect to be that much better prepared when they do become eligible for citizenship papers.

Both parties named leaders Sunday, and mayors were elected.

Antra Priode of East Cleveland is leader of the Nationalists and bus heads the Federalist party. Mayors elected include:

Judy Zevnik, Euclid; Phyllis Antonelli, Cleveland; Bernadine Maestropietro, Youngstown; Rita Lepkowski, Elyria; Nancy Muhlenkamp, St. Henry; Sue Donaldson, Lyndhurst; Martha Elliott, Madison; Mary Hulfman, Minster, and Lynn Dixon, Bellaire.

Youth Seriously Hurt In Friendly Gun Duel

HAMILTON (AP)—Two youths got into a friendly shooting duel Sunday that ended with James Johnson, 19, of Hamilton, wounded critically.

Investigators said Jimmie Terry, 17, gave this account:

He, armed with a .22 caliber pistol, and Johnson, with a .22 rifle, were headed through a woods with two friends for target practice.

Johnson said, "I'm going to shoot you," and started firing. All four youths hid behind trees and Terry returned the fire. Johnson was hit in the head.

Those 'Cool' Teen Styles Leave Prospective Boss Cold

By DOROTHY ROE

If you want to get that job, girls, don't apply for it wearing a sack dress, a straggly short haircut, bare legs and loafers. These are the current pet hates of bosses, as revealed by a recent survey of 206 office executives.

The girl who gets the job, employers agree, is the neat, well-groomed miss who wears a trim tailored suit (fitted, please), a small hat, clean gloves, sheer stockings, plain pumps with high or medium heels, a medium-length, well-brushed hairdo and a minimum of makeup.

As to boys, the best way not to get a job is to wear an Elvis Presley haircut, a loud sports coat and slacks, pork pie hat and two-tone oxfords with rubber soles.

The bosses say that the first impression made by a young job seeker is the most important. The boy or girl who takes the trouble to be well-groomed and properly dressed when applying for a job is the one who may be expected to show initiative and responsibility after he gets it.

Employers are almost unanimous in vetoing the sack dress as office attire, and they are firm in their stand against sloppy flat-heeled shoes and bobby sox or bare legs.

They have little use for the pony-tail hairdo, and particularly abhor

Freight's Brakes Fail in CO Crash

THURMOND, W. Va. (AP)—"The brakes just wouldn't stop her," said engineer H. W. Honaker after his 144-car freight train rammed into the rear of a halted luxury passenger train on the Chesapeake and Ohio mainline.

Honaker, 66, was one of four crewmen and six passengers hospitalized after the crash. None was seriously injured.

The passenger train, the George Washington, was en route from Newport News, Va., to Cincinnati.

that ragged crew-cut affected by many high school girls.

The average boss also is not impressed by the girls who shows up wearing heavy eye makeup and garish lipstick. A discreet use of makeup is, of course, all right, and even desirable. The object should be to make it look natural, so that the unobtrusive male will think you are wearing none.

Employers in eastern cities agree that young men seeking jobs should wear suits with coats and trousers that match. Preferred is a dark suit, white shirt and quiet tie. This attitude is somewhat relaxed in the West and Midwest, where sports clothes are more acceptable for business wear. Dark, well-shined oxfords are the approved footwear.

Girls also are warned to avoid metallic nail polish and long fingernails. Employers feel, reasonably enough, that the girl with curved talon fingernails will not be too efficient at the typewriter. They also frown on heavy perfume and an excess amount of costume jewelry for office wear.

As to mannerisms — you don't have to walk like Marilyn Monroe to land a job. Believe it or not the average employer is looking for efficiency rather than sex appeal during office hours.

The measure calls for extended payments to workers reaching the end of their 26-week period between June 30, 1957, and April 1, 1959, if still unemployed. Extended payments would start after the new law becomes effective. They would be paid from the state's 543 million dollar unemployment trust fund instead of from federal loans.

The program permits workers eligible for extended benefits to receive a maximum of $507 in addition to their 26-week payments. The state benefit maximum is $39 a week for a worker with a family.

Terming it only a guess, officials figure that 25,000 to 30,000 may apply for extended benefits the first week. State jobless payments average $34 a week. Multiplication puts the expected total between $850,000 and $1,020,000 a week.

The bureau estimated that some 50,000 workers already have exhausted their state benefits. But officials expect about half that number may have obtained jobs or left the labor market, making them ineligible for benefits, although figures are unavailable.

The State Advisory Council on Unemployment Compensation anticipates that benefit exhaustions during 1959 may exceed the high of 114,000 in 1950.

Reports show that about 200,000 of the 2,600,000 Ohio workers covered by unemployment insurance currently are receiving state benefits.

Approximately 270,000 workers

Pay Boosts Dump Indemnity Checks

Questions of interest to ex-service men should be given to Pickaway County Veterans Service Officer, Jim Shea. His offices are in the basement of the Courthouse in Circleville.

By JIM SHEA

Before we get into this week's questions and answers, I feel that I should clarify one of the questions in my last column that was a little misleading. It has to do with the rights of a widow to elect indemnity compensation under the Survivor Benefits Act, or death compensation.

At the present time, a widow has no choice. She must take indemnity compensation. However, if her husband died before Jan. 1, 1957, she did have a choice. If, at the time of that choice, she elected death compensation, she had the right, at any later date, to change to indemnity compensation. Once she elects indemnity compensation, she never has the right to change back to death compensation.

Q — In note in the paper that Congress has recently passed a law to grant an increase to the men and women in active service. Does this have any bearing on the amount of money being paid to a widow who is receiving indemnity compensation?

A — It certainly does. The laws governing indemnity compensation states that the widow will be paid a certain per cent of the pay that her husband held at the time of his death in service, or at the time of his separation from the service. If the Armed Forces grants an increase in her indemnity compensation.

Q — I am a World War I veteran and am receiving a Total Non-Serviced Connected Pension in the amount of $66.15. Is it true that this pension cannot be increased to $78.75 until I reach the age of 65?

A — That is not true. A veteran receiving $66.15 Total Non-Serviced Connected Pension is entitled to an increase to $78.75 per month after he has received it for 10 continuous years, or when he reaches the age of 65, whichever comes first.

Q — I AM A WORLD War II veteran and am receiving a Service Connected Compensation. I understand that there is a new law which states that if I expect to continue to receive this compensation that I must have an income of under $2,700 if I am married. Is that true?

A — No. A veteran receiving a Service Connected Compensation has no income limitation. He can have any income he is capable of earning, and it will have no bearing whatsoever on his compensation. That income limitation refers only to those veterans receiving Total Non-Serviced Connected Pensions, and it is not a new law, it has been in effect for as long as I can remember.

Q — How long does a Korean veteran have to apply for a GI Loan.

A — A Korean veteran has till Jan. 31, 1965 to apply for a GI Loan.

Columbus Man Shoots Wife, House Guest

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—While Jessie Ben Zeigler's wife sagged critically wounded into a policeman's arms Sunday, Zeigler shot and killed a house guest.

The 63-year-old Zeigler is being held in city prison today. Police say he has admitted firing the shots that took the life of Jessie Collins, 38, and sent Zeigler's wife, Bernice, 38, to Mercy Hospital in critical condition.

Minutes before the shots were fired, police had searched Zeigler's house in a fruitless effort to find the gun that fired the shots.

Police said Mrs. Zeigler called them to the house and told them her husband had loaded a revolver after a family quarrel.

When police could not find the gun, they started to leave. Patrolman George Vest said Mrs. Zeigler asked to leave with the officers and as she turned away from Vest, she was shot.

She fell into Vest's arms, the patrolman said. Police said that before they could stop him, Zeigler raced to a second floor bedroom and shot the sleeping Collins.

Police said Zeigler told them he shot his wife because she failed to prepare his noon meal Saturday. Zeigler said he shot Collins because the man had failed to leave his home.

Girls' State Gets Start

Ohio Lassies Learn Tricks of Politics

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The battle for political supremacy of the mythical 49th state — Buckeye Girls' State — began in earnest today.

Out of Sunday's caucuses of the Nationalist and Federalist parties came the narrowed field of candidates who will compete for state office nominations in Tuesday's primary. They filed petitions today.

The whole idea, of course, is to teach 806 high school girls from 85 of Ohio's 88 counties how state government works. Guided by members of the American Legion Auxiliary and alumnae of other Girls' States, the girls are operating their own government from the city level on up.

Ann Cook, 17, of Willoughby, explained how it feels to be a candidate. A candidate for governor herself, she declared:

"It's a challenge. I might as well give it a try."

Her motto: "With me, the cookie won't crumble."

Two girls won't be able to vote. They are Inger Olsen, 17, of Wickliffe, a Norwegian by birth, who cannot become a citizen until she reaches 18, and Maureen Gilway, 16, formerly of England and now from Huntsburg in Geauga County.

As non-citizens, they won't be allowed to hold office, either, but both expect to be that much better prepared when they do become eligible for citizenship papers.

Both parties named leaders Sunday, and mayors were elected.

Antra Friede of East Cleveland is leader of the Nationalist party. Mayors elected include:

Judy Zevnik, Euclid; Phyllis Antonelli, Cleveland; Bernadine Maestropietro, Youngstown; Rita Lepkowski, Elyria; Nancy Muhlenkamp, St. Henry; Sue Donaldson, Lyndhurst; Martha Elliott, Madison; Mary Huffman, Minster, and Lynn Dixon, Bellaire.

Youth Seriously Hurt In Friendly Gun Duel

HAMILTON (AP)—Two youths got into a friendly shooting duel Sunday that ended with James Johnson, 19, of Hamilton, wounded critically.

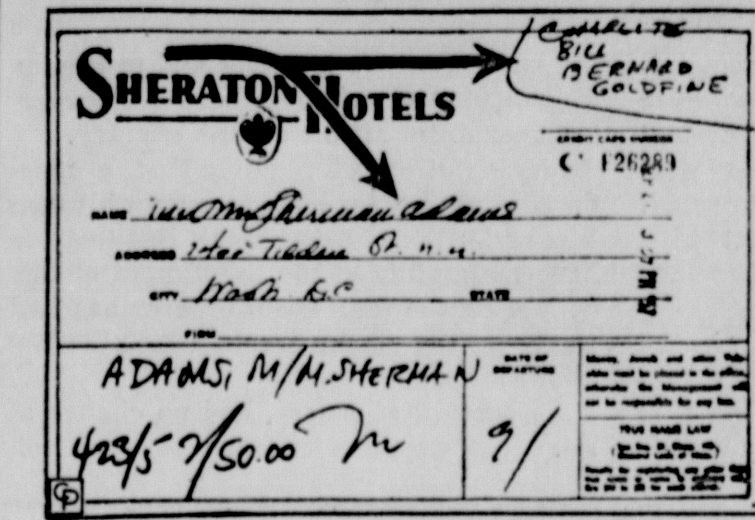

Investigators said Jimmie Terry, 17, gave this account:

He, armed with a .22 caliber pistol, and Johnson, with a .22 rifle, were headed through a woods with two friends for target practice.

Johnson said, "I'm going to shoot you," and started firing. All four youths hid behind trees and Terry returned the fire. Johnson was hit in the head.

Those 'Cool' Teen Styles Leave Prospective Boss Cold

By DOROTHY ROE

If you want to get that job, girls, don't apply for it wearing a sack dress, a straggly short haircut, bare legs and loafers. These are the current pet hates of bosses, as revealed by a recent survey of 206 office executives.

The girl who gets the job, employers agree, is the neat, well-groomed miss who wears a trim tailored suit (fitted, please), a small hat, clean gloves, sheer stockings, plain pumps with high or medium heels, a medium-length, well-brushed hairdo and a minimum of makeup.

As to boys, the best way not to get a job is to wear an Elvis Presley haircut, a loud sports coat and slacks, pork pie hat and two-tone oxfords with rubber soles.

The bosses say that the first impression made by a young job seeker is the most important. The boy or girl who takes the trouble to be well-groomed and properly dressed when applying for a job is the one who may be expected to show initiative and responsibility after he gets it.

Employers are almost unanimous in vetoing the sack dress as office attire, and they are firm in their stand against sloppy flat-heeled shoes and bobby sox or bare legs.

They have little use for the pony-tail hairdo, and particularly abhor

Freight's Brakes Fail in CO Crash

THURMOND, W. Va. (AP)—"The brakes just wouldn't stop her," said engineer H. W. Honaker after his 144-car freight train rammed into the rear of a halted luxury passenger train on the Chesapeake and Ohio mainline.

Honaker, 66, was one of four crewmen and six passengers hospitalized after the crash. None was seriously injured.

The passenger train, the George Washington, was en route from Newport News, Va., to Cincinnati.

that ragged crew-cut affected by many high school girls.

The average boss also is not impressed by the girls who show up wearing heavy eye makeup and garish lipstick. A discreet use of makeup is, of course, all right, and even desirable. The object should be to make it look natural, so that the unobserving male will think you are wearing none.

Employers in eastern cities agree that young men seeking jobs should wear suits with coats and trousers that match. Preferred is a dark suit, white shirt and quiet tie. This attitude is somewhat relaxed in the West and Midwest, where sports clothes are more acceptable for business wear. Dark, well-shined oxfords are the approved footwear.

Girls also are warned to avoid metallic nail polish and long fingernails. Employers feel, reasonably enough, that the girl with curved talon fingernails will not be too efficient at the typewriter. They also frown on heavy perfume and an excess amount of costume jewelry for office wear.

As to mannerisms — you don't have to walk like Marilyn Monroe to land a job. Believe it or not the average employer is looking for efficiency rather than sex appeal during office hours.

Why Crime Flourishes

It is still true, as the familiar axiom asserts, that crime does not pay, but there are also understandable reasons why evil men and women take their chances with the law when they have a crime in mind. There is always the possibility that the law will not catch up with them, that they can beat the rap.

The record in Chicago, as shown in the Chicago Crime Commission's recent annual report, illustrates the likelihood that a cold-blooded murderer will go unpunished. In the 39-year period from 1919 through 1957, the report discloses, only 17 persons were convicted of connection with the 926 murders committed.

For each 100 slain, convictions averaged 1.8 persons. And, the report adds, "several of the 17 persons convicted were freed by the Supreme Court when their cases were appealed."

What a shocking record of the failure of the law and of the agencies and processes of justice! And such instances are occurring constantly all over the country.

Elemental justice requires that a murderer shall pay for his crime with his own life, or by life imprisonment. But there is little probability of the fulfillment of this decree by the time the murderer has had the benefit of all the breaks which the law allows him.

His victim, of course, had no chance at all.

Courtin' Main

These are exciting times, but occasionally a man gets the idea he is paying too much for the entertainment.

List of Things To Do Without

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Wives are always writing notes to themselves headed: "Things to do."

Every now and then, however, when the foibles of civilization become oppressive, mankind ought to compose a different kind of list—a list of things we could all do without, a catalogue of expendables.

Here are a few personal nominations:

The Russian problem, the Algerian problem, the Middle East problem and the middle age problem.

The current vogue of "sick jokes" such as this one: "Papa, why is mama lying there so white and still?" "Shut up and keep digging!"

Television Westerns in which every character needs a psychiatrist except the villain's horse. People who greet you by patting your stomach and saying: "Still putting it on, eh?"

The word "No!" when used by women.

People who have given up smoking, drinking and thinking—all at the same time.

Books about decadence in the South.

Books about decadence in the suburbs.

All books over 300 pages long.

Recession.

Inflation.

People who wear sunglasses on cloudy days.

Fond parents who insist on showing you photos of their children.

Pet owners who buy expensive items such as gold identification

tags or mink jackets for dogs.

Martinis made with gin.

Hosts who insist on subjecting their guests to the joys of backyard cooking at the height of the mosquito season.

Rock 'n' roll.

Fat men who persist in wearing plaid caps three sizes too small for them.

Fat ladies who wear a bikini, although they are three sizes too large for one.

Bosses who begin a conversation, "Now look, this is harder for me than it is for you."

Bosses who brag, "I never asked a man to do a n y thing I wouldn't do myself."

People who say out loud to elevator operators, "Guess you have your ups and downs, Heh, heh, heh."

An Episode to Remember

By George Sokolsky

I recently went to the funeral of an interesting and charming man who was very important in the motion picture industry but was probably not as famous as many stars whom he made great and who shot before his desk their stellar careers to perform.

I first met Nate Spingold under the most unfortunate circumstances. He came to quarrel with me. He was angry and yet genteel, which is so unusual these days. Gentility is a gift which only those to the manner born possess and although Spingold could not have come from any kind of aristocracy, he was born with the personality and manner and integrity which we attribute to the very best of human beings.

And so, on a Saturday afternoon, this man whose height and leanness and gentleness of feature made him look something like Abraham Lincoln came to quarrel.

He said that he had been told that a group of us had established a boycott of motion pictures, of actors, directors, producers, and others who were reputed to be Communists. How did we know that they were Communists? By what moral right did we designate ourselves to destroy the careers and lives of other people?

We argued for some time. We discussed Marxism, Communism, the Russian brand, the American brand, the ability of the American Communist Party to build a treasury in Hollywood. We discussed individuals. Spingold finally said:

"The problem as I see it is very different from that which you see. The way I see it, what means does a person who is not a Communist have to prove that he is not a Communist, not a traitor. If such a person goes to the FBI, what he says is confidential; it is filed and the public never hears of it. If he goes to a Congressional committee, he may or may not be heard. What does such a man do? We cannot afford to employ him because we shall lose money as there will be a boycott. What is such a person to do? Is he to starve?"

Out of this discussion, an effort developed which saved the reputation and earning capacity of many men and women in the motion picture industry. A technique was established by which each person wrote a confidential letter to his own employer. For a week or two, some of the letters came into the hands of unauthorized persons, but that was soon stopped. The letters were screened by a small voluntary committee. No lawyers or press agents were tolerated. No one earned a dollar out of these transactions. The volunteer committee paid its own expenses, whatever they came to.

The Fund for the Republic tried to make something about this and most of what it reported was hearsay and inaccurate because those who really knew what was being done declined to give any information to their investigators. It is a tribute to Nate Spingold that most of his industry accepted his ideas on the subject with enthusiasm, although there are always everywhere chiselers who would rather make a dollar than serve their country.

It can be said that most of these chiselers were new people in the motion picture industry who have had much to do with lowering its standards and giving it a very bad name. Also, it was during this activity that many Hollywood companies began making pictures in other countries, using up their blocked money, employing foreign labor, paying withholding charges to Communist unions in Italy, saving on taxes and curiously enough, going broke in the process. The motion picture industry has become a marginal one in the Los Angeles area and important studios are now devoted to making TV films.

To the motion picture industry the loss of Nate Spingold is great, not because he knew how to make profits which he did, but because he is a gentleman of culture and good taste. Like Louie B. Mayer, who also died recently, his major concern was his country and its dignity. Spingold started life as a newspaperman working for Hearst in Chicago. He came to New York as a press agent; he became a movie magnate. But he never forgot his newspaper experience which meant that he could see a fact and appraise it. His virtue was that he leavened his appraisal by moral criteria.

ONE BIG BRANCH of a national restaurant chain showed a sudden sharp and inexplicable decline in receipts, and inspectors were sent on the double to investigate. "Everything seems in perfect order," they reported, frankly puzzled. "We kept a close eye on all three cash registers, and every sale was rung up accurately."

That's how management discovered the gimmick. There were supposed to be only two cash registers. A cashier had thoughtfully installed a third register of his own.

Foot Rules for Diabetics

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

Remember the "good old days" when youngsters used to go barefoot all summer long?

We don't see much of this any more, especially in our urban areas. And it's probably a good thing.

With all the glass and other sharp objects left lying around these days as a result of our more civilized way of living, the chances of injury and infection are fairly high.

So I suggest that you parents do not permit your youngsters to go around barefoot much this summer, unless it is in the safety of your own backyard.

And I must rule out even this for all diabetic children. In fact, any diabetic, young or old, should never walk around barefoot anywhere any time.

Any kind of an infection in a diabetic should be treated as an emergency. Infection, you see, reduces the effectiveness of insulin.

Since infection is apt to begin on the skin, especially around the toes, a diabetic must take meticulous care of his feet. Therefore let me give you a few foot rules that any diabetic, young or old, should follow:

Bathe and powder your feet daily. Pat your feet dry, don't wipe them.

Don't bathe in very hot water.

Even in the shower, protect your feet with paper slippers.

Don't cut, scrape or injure your toes or feet.

Don't use commercial corn remedies.

Don't use strong iodine solutions.

Wear good, supple leather shoes

with flexible soles. Old shoes that are out of shape can cause foot trouble.

Don't wear poorly fitted shoes or arch supports.

Don't wear whoes without hosiery.

Poor circulation also is extremely dangerous to a diabetic. It causes damage to the tissues and the excess sugar in the blood provides bacteria with an excellent opportunity to grow. Consequently:

Don't sit with your legs crossed over your knees.

Don't use tight bandages or place adhesive tape on the skin.

Don't use hot water bottles on your feet.

Question and Answer

Mrs. R. B.: My 20-year-old son has a very high-pitched voice. This began at the age of 14.

What can be causing this?

Answer: Some disorder of the vocal cords or nervous system may be at fault. A thorough physical examination will probably reveal the exact cause.

The largest source of farm income in Ohio is from the sale of dairy products, principally fluid milk. The second farm crop is hogs, sold for meat. Third is poultry, the production of chickens and eggs—and to some extent turkeys and other fowl—for market. Cattle to be turned into meat, "truck" or vegetables, greenhouse and nursery products, fruit and potatoes are high on the list. Ohio has more farm area under glass—in greenhouses—than any other state.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower himself has set an example for a person who gives him something than for one who doesn't?

2. Should a man in public office—for fear of appearing to return a favor—let himself be in the position of refusing to do for an individual who gave him a gift something he'd freely do for a stranger?

A man in public office could easily avoid both dilemmas — dilemmas with which he should never have to be confronted — by refusing gifts from anyone who has or might have any business with the government.

When Bernard Goldfine, Adams' gift-giving friend, a businessman, got into trouble with a federal agency, he went to Adams in the White House to find out why. Adams got the information for him, information which a House subcommittee lawyer said it was against the law to reveal.

Then Adams offered this contradictory explanation of his conduct:

He said what he did for Goldfine—getting the information from the agency — was the kind of routing thing he or his staff would do for anyone who came to him. But at the same time he conceded maybe his judgment was bad.

Several years ago Eisenhower said: "I can't believe anybody on my staff would ever be guilty of an indiscretion. But if anything came to my attention of that kind . . . that individual would be gone."

At his news conference Eisenhower, while describing Adams as "imprudent," announced at the same time he would keep him because "I need him."

Eisenhower certainly has needed Adams. It's because of Adams' long and dedicated hours at his desk—taking a lot of the load off Eisenhower—that Eisenhower has had so much time to himself, including time for golf.

or decide something or use his influence for a person who gives him something than for one who doesn't?

Dear Sir:

In regard to the letter signed R.S.R. I don't believe this person has ever spent an evening at Ted Lewis Park watching a ball game.

As a mother of a ball player, I have spent two complete summers and am looking forward to the third at Ted Lewis Park after working eight hours on a job.

I don't know of a better way of relaxing your body and mind than watching a ballgame.

The Park is not just a place for kids to play. Many father and son are working together on a team putting their whole heart into the job. Who could ask for anything more than the father and son being together in these days.

You have to have a boy playing to really know what it means to him to win a game. This R.S.R. should see a boy crying all night after a loss. These boys have to have Managers to teach them to abide by rules, be a good sport, and respect for a fellow player. I don't see how this can be called shenanigans.

I know most of the men out there playing ball are men working eight hours or more on the job.

'Mr. America' Chosen

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The new Mr. America is a brawny weightlifter from New York City who boasts a 51-inch chest. Tom Sani, who tapers down to a 31-inch waist, was selected from among 40 entrants.

Some are even foremen in local plants, looking for a little fun and relaxation.

High people out of work and business not too hot, how can a family, father, mother and children and even some grandfathers and mothers spend a complete day or evening of enjoyment together and not spend one nickel.

Ted Lewis Park does need to be improved, with so many more people going there lately. I think Circleville should be proud to have it.

If playing ball was the only crime committed this old world would be a better place to live. If more people with worried minds and sore muscles would go out to Ted Lewis Park and watch a good ball game, there wouldn't be so many people in mental institutions for there is no better way of relaxing the body and mind.

Why Crime Flourishes

It is still true, as the familiar axiom asserts, that crime does not pay, but there are also understandable reasons why evil men and women take their chances with the law when they have a crime in mind. There is always the possibility that the law will not catch up with them, that they can beat the rap.

The record in Chicago, as shown in the Chicago Crime Commission's recent annual report, illustrates the likelihood that a cold-blooded murderer will go unpunished. In the 39-year period from 1919 through 1957, the report discloses, only 17 persons were convicted of connection with the 926 murders committed.

For each 100 slain, convictions averaged 1.8 persons. And, the report adds, "several of the 17 persons convicted were freed by the Supreme Court when their cases were appealed."

What a shocking record of the failure of the law and of the agencies and processes of justice! And such instances are occurring constantly all over the country.

Elemental justice requires that a murderer shall pay for his crime with his own life, or by life imprisonment. But there is little probability of the fulfillment of this decree by the time the murderer has had the benefit of all the breaks which the law allows him.

His victim, of course, had no chance at all.

List of Things To Do Without

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK — Wives are always writing notes to themselves headed: "Things to do."

Every now and then, however, when the foibles of civilization become oppressive, mankind ought to compose a different kind of list—a list of things we could all do without, a catalogue of expendables.

Here are a few personal nominations:

The Russian problem, the Algerian problem, the Middle East problem and the middle age problem.

The current vogue of "sick jokes" such as this one: "Papa, why is mama lying there so white and still?" "Shut up and keep digging!"

Television Westerns in which every character needs a psychiatrist except the villain's horse.

People who greet you by patting your stomach and saying: "Still putting it on, eh?"

The word "No!" when used by women.

People who have given up smoking, drinking and thinking—all at the same time.

Books about decadence in the South.

Books about decadence in the suburbs.

All books over 300 pages long.

Recession.

Inflation.

People who wear sunglasses on cloudy days.

Fond parents who insist on showing you photos of their children.

Pet owners who buy expensive items such as gold identification

tags or mink jackets for dogs.

Martini made with gin.

Martini made with vodka.

Hosts who insist on subjecting their guests to the joys of backyard cooking at the height of the mosquito season.

Rock 'n' roll.

Fat men who persist in wearing plaid caps three sizes too small for them.

Fat ladies who wear a bikini, although they are three sizes too large for one.

Bosses who begin a conversation, "Now look, this is harder for me than it is for you."

Bosses who brag, "I never asked a man to do anything I wouldn't do myself."

People who say out loud to elevator operators, "Guess you have your ups and downs, Heh, heh, heh."

An Episode to Remember

By George Sokolsky

I recently went to the funeral of an interesting and charming man who was very important in the motion picture industry but was probably not as famous as many stars whom he made great and who shot before his desk their stellar careers to perform.

I first met Nate Spingold under the most unfortunate circumstances. He came to quarrel with me. He was angry and yet genteel, which is so unusual these days. Gentility is a gift which only those to the manner born possess and although Spingold could not have come from any kind of aristocracy, he was born with the personality and manner and integrity which we attribute to the very best of human beings.

And so, on a Saturday afternoon, this man whose height and leanness and gentleness of feature made him look something like Abraham Lincoln came to quarrel.

He said that he had been told that a group of us had established a boycott of motion pictures, of actors, directors, producers, and others who were reputed to be Communists. How did we know that they were Communists? By what moral right did we designate ourselves to destroy the careers and lives of other people?

We argued for some time. We discussed Marxism, Communism, the Russian brand, the American brand, the ability of the American Communist Party to build a treasury in Hollywood. We discussed individuals. Spingold finally said:

"The problem as I see it is very different from that which you see. The way I see it, what means does a person who is not a Communist have to prove that he is not a Communist, not a traitor. If such a person goes to the FBI, what he says is confidential; it is filed and the public never hears of it. If he goes to a Congressional committee, he may or may not be heard. What does such a man do? We cannot afford to employ him because we shall lose money as there will be a boycott. What is such a person to do? Is he to starve?"

Out of this discussion, an effort developed which saved the reputation and earning capacity of many men and women in the motion picture industry. A technique was established by which each person wrote a confidential letter to his own employer. For a week or two, some of the letters came into the hands of unauthorized persons, but that was soon stopped. The letters were screened by a small voluntary committee. No lawyers or press agents were tolerated. No one earned a dollar out of these transactions. The volunteer committee paid its own expenses, whatever they came to.

The Fund for the Republic tried to make something about this and most of what it reported was hearsay and inaccurate because those who really knew what was being done declined to give any information to their investigators. It is a tribute to Nate Spingold that most of his industry accepted his ideas on the subject with enthusiasm, although there are always everywhere chiselers who would rather make a dollar than serve their country.

It can be said that most of these chiselers were new people in the motion picture industry who have had much to do with lowering its standards and giving it a very bad name. Also, it was during this activity that many Hollywood companies began making pictures in other countries, using up their blocked money, employing foreign labor, paying withholding charges to Communist unions in Italy, saving on taxes and curiously enough, going broke in the process. The motion picture industry has become a marginal one in the Los Angeles area and important studios are now devoted to making TV films.

To the motion picture industry the loss of Nate Spingold is great, not because he knew how to make profits which he did, but because he is a gentleman of culture and good taste. Like Louis B. Mayer, who also died recently, his major concern was his country and its dignity. Spingold started life as a newspaperman working for Hearst in Chicago. He came to New York as a press agent; he became a movie magnate. But he never forgot his newspaper experience which meant that he could see a fact and appraise it. His virtue was that he leavened his appraisal by moral criteria.

ONE BIG BRANCH of a national restaurant chain showed a sudden sharp and inexplicable decline in receipts, and inspectors were sent on the double to investigate. "Everything seems in perfect order," they reported, flunkily puzzled. "We kept a close eye on all three cash registers, and every sale was rung up accurately."

That's how management discovered the gimmick. There were supposed to be only two cash registers. A cashier had thoughtfully installed a third register of his own.

Foot Rules for Diabetics

By Herman N. Bundesen, M. D.

Remember the "good old days" when youngsters used to go barefoot all summer long?

We don't see much of this any more, especially in our urban areas. And it's probably a good thing.

With all the glass and other sharp objects left lying around these days as a result of our more civilized way of living, the chances of injury and infection are fairly high.

So I suggest that you parents do not permit your youngsters to go around barefoot much this summer, unless it is in the safety of your own backyard.

And I must rule out even this for all diabetic children. In fact, any diabetic, young or old, should never walk around barefoot anywhere any time.

Any kind of an infection in a diabetic should be treated as an emergency. Infection, you see, reduces the effectiveness of insulin.

Since infection is apt to begin on the skin, especially around the toes, a diabetic must take meticulous care of his feet. Therefore let me give you a few foot rules that any diabetic, young or old, should follow:

Bathe and powder your feet daily. Pat your feet dry, don't wipe them.

Don't bathe in very hot water.

Even in the shower, protect your feet with paper slippers.

Don't cut, scrape or injure your toes or feet.

Don't use commercial corn remedies.

Don't use strong iodine solutions.

Wear good, supple leather shoes

with flexible soles. Old shoes that are out of shape can cause foot trouble.

Don't wear poorly fitted shoes or arch supports.

Don't wear whoes without hose-ry.

Poor circulation also is extremely dangerous to a diabetic. It causes damage to the tissues and the excess sugar in the blood provides bacteria with an excellent opportunity to grow. Consequently:

Don't sit with your legs crossed over your knees.

Don't use tight bandages or place adhesive tape on the skin.

Don't use hot water bottles on your feet.

Question and Answer

Mrs. R. B.: My 20-year-old son has a very high-pitched voice. This began at the age of 14.

What can be causing this?

Answer: Some disorder of the vocal cords or nervous system may be at fault. A thorough physical examination will probably reveal the exact cause.

The largest source of farm income in Ohio is from the sale of dairy products, principally fluid milk. The second farm crop is hogs, sold for meat. Third is poultry, the production of chickens and eggs—and to some extent turkeys and other fowl—for market. Cattle to be turned into meat, "truck" or vegetables, greenhouse and nursery products, fruit and potatoes are high on the list. Ohio has more farm area under glass—in greenhouses—than any other state.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower himself has set an example for Sherman Adams and all other government employees in accepting gifts. He has received for his personal use gifts totaling thousands of dollars.

He tried, in his news conference last week, to say when it is and isn't all right for a man in public office to accept gifts. The line he drew was far from sharp or distinct.

Maybe such a line can't be drawn. But because it hasn't been drawn both Eisenhower and Adams, his chief assistant, find themselves in contradictory positions.

If a clear line can't be drawn it would seem any man in public office should lean over backwards away from backwards—to avoid doing anything which might embarrass him or the government or cause suspicion.

This is what Eisenhower said: "The circumstances surrounding the innocent receipt by a public official of any gifts are therefore important, so that the public may clearly distinguish between innocent and guilty action."

"Among these circumstances are the character and reputation of the individual, the record of his subsequent actions, and evidence of intent or lack of intent to exert undue influence."

But this explanation overlooks some very human and subtle questions:

1. Would a man in public office, intentionally or not, be more favorably inclined to do something or decide something or use his influence for a person who gives him something than for one who doesn't?

2. Should a man in public office—for fear of appearing to return a favor—let himself be in the position of refusing to do for an individual who gave him a gift something he'd freely do for a stranger?

A man in public office could easily avoid both dilemmas—dilemmas with which he should never have to be confronted—by refusing gifts from anyone who has or might have any business with the government.

When Bernard Goldfine, Adams' gift-giving friend, a businessman, got into trouble with a federal agency, he went to Adams in the White House to find out why. Adams got the information for him, information which a House subcommittee lawyer said it was against the law to reveal.

Then Adams offered this contradictory explanation of his conduct:

He said what he did for Goldfine—getting the information from the agency—was the kind of routing thing he or his staff would do for anyone who came to him. But at the same time he conceded maybe his judgment was bad.

Several years ago Eisenhower said: "I can't believe anybody on my staff would ever be guilty of an indiscretion. But if anything came to my attention of that kind . . . that individual would be gone."

At his news conference Eisenhower, while describing Adams as "imprudent," announced at the same time he would keep him because "I need him."

Eisenhower certainly has needed Adams. It's because of Adams' long and dedicated hours at his desk—taking a lot of the load off Eisenhower—that Eisenhower has had so much time to himself, including time for golf.

New Labels Fashioned for Economy Today

'Panic' or 'Depression' No Longer Found on Modern Word List

By SAM DAWSON
NEW YORK (AP)—New labels for what's happening to use today crop up fast. And old terms for a slack in business activity are cast off as too harsh or upsetting.

Bottoming out is the most popular of today's catch-all phrases — leveling off having been the euphemism used last year when the boom fizzled.

Grandfather may have talked about a panic — which today's unpleasantness certainly isn't — and Father lived intimately with a depression — which by strict definition this one isn't either.

Today's is called a saucer-like recession, although some prefer breather before the next sprint and others think it shouldn't be mentioned by any name, especially if their own sales are queasy.

Rolling readjustment was good enough right after the war. And inventory adjustment did for broader dips in the economy, such as the two before this one.

Total employment, wage-price spirals, jobless pay, built in cushions and escalators — all are part of the postwar jargon of management, labor, economists and consumers.

Economists see fine shades of meaning in all these terms. But most citizens just know that business is brisk or slow, jobs easy or hard to find. Just as they associate inflation with only one thing — higher prices for what they buy, no matter what may have caused it.

The old fashioned panic usually started with bank failures and loud bursting of stock market balloons. There's nothing like that today.

A depression — according to the dictionary of economics by Harold S. Sloan and Arnold J. Zuercher — is "a period of low business activity when prices are low, purchasing power sharply curtailed, and unemployment high." The current dip has a long way to slip before getting into that class, in spite of the distressing total of the jobless.

A recession is defined as "a mild tapering off of economic activity, not sufficient to mark a major phase of a business cycle." Many economists tag today's state of business with that handle, although they concede that only some businesses are affected and in large sections of the nation you can scarcely find a trace of an over-all slowdown.

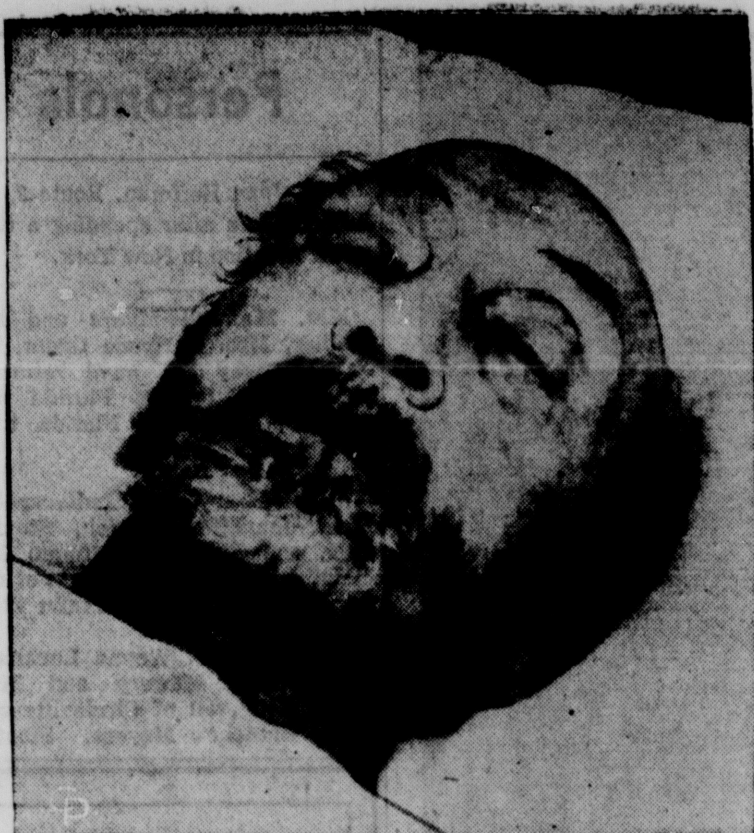

And that state of affairs is what a few years back was called a rolling readjustment, meaning that only part of the economy was down at any one time while others went zooming along waiting their turn.

This time the slump — another catch phrase used because it takes up less type space than recession — is too wide spread through the durable goods industries and too deep to be dismissed as rolling.

So the saucer recession has come into vogue. Economists looking at past economic dips noted that after a fairly steep decline the economy, before starting up again, spent quite a bit of time on the floor of the valley (it's on a plateau when it's stopped dead after a climb). The likeness to a saucer came in handy.

Some now vary this by opining that this bottoming out might be on a spongy bottom, remembering that saucers often can be wet and messy. This means the optimists hope that for some time now we'll have only minor ups and downs until the other side of the saucer or valley is reached.

By then we're likely to have an entirely new set of terms.

HIS 60-YEAR-OLD SON ACCUSED—Freed from a fenced-in enclosure in what was said to be his own son's backyard, 68-year-old Eugene W. Cole is in Santiam Memorial hospital in Stayton, Ore. The son, Daniel, 60, was arrested on an assault and battery charge. (UPI Telephoto)

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband and I are in our early thirties and love each other. We have been married 11 years and long ago dedicated our lives to God — since when our marriage has become richer and stronger. We have two children and are prayerfully mindful of the influence of right example.

We have the same interests generally, except that John is more of a sports fan. We've always found each other attractive and fun — never boring.

The problem is that my husband is too attentive to other women. I don't mean that he goes out of his way to flirt; but if a pretty girl is in view (in a restaurant, for example) he takes note of her to the point that she becomes aware of it. And that's when I begin to burn!

I realize that men admire beauty, and I consider this natural. And in moderation I wouldn't mind John's "looking." But where should it stop? When should a man's consideration of his wife's feelings begin? Because of his moral character, my husband would be quick to spurn a promiscuous woman's advances.

If I am taking a wrong attitude, making a mountain of a molehill I'd like to know. But am I at fault in reacting as I do? Or is John the problem-person?

S.P.
DEAR S. P.: In my book, the nuisances of John's behavior as described convey many implications about his character and or personality health—and the implications aren't flattering to him.

He needs to grow up, both psychologically and morally.

Our Lord Himself had something to say about the corrupt significance of a man's ogling a woman in passing, in a mood of trying to catch her attention. He bluntly defined that sort of thing as a sin against chastity, as much as if he violated the Sixth Commandment.

As I get the picture of your marriage problem, you are hurt justifiably by your husband's treason to emotional integrity, in those situations when he tries to establish a current of flirtatious awareness between himself and a good looking stranger.

Let's put it this way—if John's habit of staring at pretty girls is disturbing to you, he should be aware of that; and in loving kindness he should discipline himself to curb or cut out the practice.

The married man who insistently indulges himself in this brand of bad manners is revealing, to discerning observers, his obscure sense of social inadequacy. Because of this neurotic handicap, he is always passing the hat, figuratively speaking, for reassurance that he is (or looks to be) quite a fellow.

The genuinely manly man, sure of himself in the roles of husband, lover, family provider, and a able agent in the world of affairs, casually concentrates his attention on the chosen woman in his life — and leaves the marginal might-have-beens entirely out of the reckoning. But your husband hasn't matured up to that plane of composure as yet.

My advice is to try to get this problem into the open for healing discussion. To fortify your own sound sense of propriety in the matter, you might read "Life Together" (Sheed Ward) by Wingfield Hope.

Lockbourne AFB Is 'Campus' For Summer ROTC Trainees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It takes a lot of marching, a little judo and jet flying, and an idea borrowed from college social fraternities, but they're separating the military men from the college boys here.

"Here" is Lockbourne Air Force Base, one of several bases whose facilities are being used in the ROTC summer training program.

"They" are a 16-officer faculty, mostly men who have been serving as college ROTC instructors, commanded by a lieutenant colonel from Lockbourne and assisted by nine sergeants.

The college boys are ROTC—Reserve Officer Training Corps—cadets, 20-and-21-year-olds from 37 colleges and universities between New England and New Mexico. Most will start their last year of college in the fall. A few have already completed four years.

Within a year, the Air Force hopes most will graduate and be commissioned second lieutenants. The latter depends to a considerable extent on their performance during the four weeks here.

For three (and sometimes four) years they've attended officer-taught ROTC classes. After the first two years, they volunteered for the last two years of the program and were selected after careful screening.

The four weeks here are designed to open their eyes to what air base life is really like. To help the adjustment, the faculty has borrowed an idea from college fraternities.

It's the buddy system, the idea of having "big brothers" — fellows who have been through both ROTC and Air Force active duty—show cadets the ropes. Twenty-eight such ROTC graduate officers are helping the 241 college men who reported last week.

Since they reported, cadets have been working a 15-hour day, rising at 5:20 a. m. and hitting the sack at 9 p. m. There's some class-room instruction, but most is the see-it-for-yourself variety.

This is the week they've been looking forward to. Each gets a half-hour jet ride in a two-seat T33 trainer.

Before camp closes July 13, they will have flown with the aircrew of a four-engine KC97 tanker plane on a 5-to-7-hour mission to refuel a jet bomber. They'll also fly to Florida to see a demonstration of Air Force weapons, and the outstanding flight—about 27 cadets—will ride in the new KC135 jet tanker at the close of camp.

In the four weeks, each will have served in a position of command and each will have spent two days at a special survival training camp in the rough country around Nelsonville, Ohio. There, cadets will have to provide their own meals and shelter—just as they might if forced down—and find their way to civilization.

Although paid the salary of basic airmen—$78 for the four weeks—cadets have a status somewhere between enlisted and officer rank. Enlisted men do not salute them, but cadets must salute officers.

Upon satisfactory completion of the four weeks — cadets can be washed out of the program by a board of officers for failing to meet standards—they receive a certificate of completion. There are no grades, no tests. But an evaluation of each cadet's potential is forwarded to the ROTC detachment at his school.

Once they've completed the program and gotten their college diplomas, cadets serve a minimum of five years as Air Force officers if they fly, three years if they do not earn pilots' or navigators' wings.

The Air Force of course hopes that what they see this summer and their subsequent experience on active duty will convince them they should make a career of it.

'Have Gun, Will Travel' Star Really Can Ride Hoss

By RICHARD BOONE
NEW YORK (AP) — A little more than a year ago, a certain observation was made in a screening room on Madison Avenue. CBS and advertising executives were viewing the pilot episode of "Have Gun, Will Travel."

In the darkness, someone said: "Say, that damn doctor can really ride a horse."

That Madison Avenue observer was seeing me for the first time as Paladin — a gentlemanly sort of rogue, circa Old West, 1870's. Until then he knew me from TV for the most part as Dr. Syner. Well, an actor is always looking for a change of pace. The meatier the role, the better the actor's feast. Having been with Paladin for over a year, I feel right at home with him and the show. I've never had so much fun.

As for that Madison Avenue observer's surprise at seeing me on a horse—well, Boone and horses have been on neighborly terms for a long time.

I've ridden them as a boy working summers in Montana, and they have carried me across landscapes through a score of Western feature pictures.

In fact, one of the requirements I have for actors in a dramatic group I conduct is that they learn to ride a horse. Where is an actor in Hollywood today, if he can't swing aboard Old Paint?

Getting back to HGWT. People often ask, now that the show is a success, how long the series will run. This is a tough question that I wouldn't try to answer. There are so many unknown factors in the run of any show on television.

Well, they then ask — How long will TV westerns be popular? This brings to mind the Indian chief who asked Gen. Phil Sheridan for a cannon.

"Why — so you can kill more soldiers?" demanded Sheridan.

"No," said the chief. "Use cannon to kill cowboys. Kill soldiers with a club."

As far as I'm concerned, I hope its just as hard to kill off TV's Westerns. The good ones, that is. There's just something about cowboys and good Western stories that make good entertainment.

Incompetent Teachers Hit

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio—It would be the lesser evil to close a school than put an incompetent teacher in it.

The warning came Sunday from Dr. Ralph W. McDonald, president of Bowling Green State University, as he welcomed the representatives to the 36th annual meeting of the National Assn. of State Directors of Teacher Education and Certification.

"You cheat a child more and more permanently by putting an incompetent teacher in the classroom and calling him a teacher than you can by closing down the classroom," he declared.

New Labels Fashioned for Economy Today

'Panic' or 'Depression' No Longer Found on Modern Word List

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—New labels for what's happening to use today crop up fast. And old terms for a slack in business activity are cast off as too harsh or upsetting.

Bottoming out is the most popular of today's catch-all phrases—leveling off having been the euphemism used last year when the boom fizzled.

Grandfather may have talked about a panic—which today's unpleasantness certainly isn't—and Father lived intimately with a depression—which by strict definition this one isn't either.

Today's is called a saucer-like recession, although some prefer breather before the next sprint and others think it shouldn't be mentioned by any name, especially if their own sales are queasy.

Rolling readjustment was good enough right after the war. And inventory adjustment did for broader dips in the economy, such as the two before this one.

Total employment, wage-price spirals, jobless pay, built-in cushions and escalators—all are part of the postwar jargon of management, labor, economists and consumers.

Economists see fine shades of meaning in all these terms. But most citizens just know that business is brisk or slow, jobs easy or hard to find. Just as they associate inflation with only one thing—higher prices for what they buy, no matter what may have caused it.

The old fashioned panic usually started with bank failures and loud bursting of stock market balloons. There's nothing like that today.

A depression—according to the dictionary of economics by Harold S. Sloan and Arnold J. Zurcher—is "a period of low business activity when prices are low, purchasing power sharply curtailed, and unemployment high." The current dip has a long way to slip before getting into that class, in spite of the distressing total of the jobsless.

A recession is defined as "a mild tapering off of economic activity, not sufficient to mark a major phase of a business cycle." Many economists tag today's state of business with that handle, although they concede that only some businesses are affected and in large sections of the nation you can scarcely find a trace of an over-all slowdown.

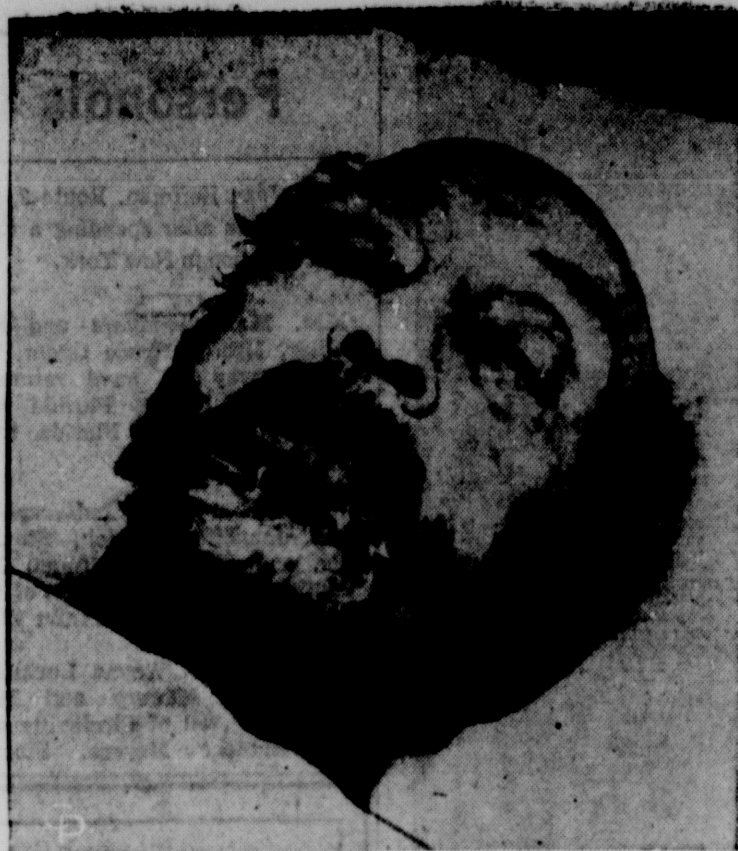

And that state of affairs is what a few years back was called a rolling readjustment, meaning that only part of the economy was down at any one time while others were zooming along waiting their turn.

This time the slump—another catch phrase used because it takes up less type space than recession—is too wide spread through the durable goods industries and too deep to be dismissed as rolling.

So the saucer recession has come into vogue. Economists looking at past economic dips noted that after a fairly steep decline the economy, before starting up again, spent quite a bit of time on the floor of the valley (it's on a plateau when it's stopped dead after a climb). The likeness to a saucer came in handy.

Some now vary this by opining that this bottoming out might be on a spongy bottom, remembering that saucers often can be wet and messy. This means the optimists hope that for some time now we'll have only minor ups and downs until the other side of the saucer or valley is reached.

By then we're likely to have an entirely new set of terms.

HIS 60-YEAR-OLD SON ACCUSED—Freed from a fenced-in enclosure in what was said to be his own son's backyard, 88-year-old Eugene W. Cole is in Santiam Memorial hospital in Stayton, Ore. The son, Daniel, 60, was arrested on an assault and battery charge. (UPI Telephoto)

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband and I are in our early thirties and love each other. We have been married 11 years and long ago dedicated our lives to God—since when our marriage has become richer and stronger. We have two children and are prayerfully mindful of the influence of right example.

We have the same interests generally, except that John is more of a sports fan. We've always found each other attractive and fun—never boring.

The problem is that my husband is too attentive to other women. I don't mean that he goes out of his way to flirt; but if a pretty girl is in view (in a restaurant, for example) he takes note of her to the point that she becomes aware of it. And that's when I begin to burn!

I realize that men admire beauty, and I consider this natural. And in moderation I wouldn't mind John's "looking." But where should it stop? When should a man's consideration of his wife's feelings begin? Because of his moral character, my husband would be quick to spurn a promiscuous woman's advances.

If I am taking a wrong attitude, making a mountain of a molehill I'd like to know. But am I at fault in reacting as I do? Or is John the problem-person?

S.P.

DEAR S. P.: In my book, the nuisances of John's behavior as described convey many implications about his character and or personality health—and the implications aren't flattering to him.

He needs to grow up, both psychologically and morally.

Our Lord Himself had something to say about the corrupt significance of a man's ogling a woman in passing, in a mood of trying to catch her attention. He bluntly defined that sort of thing as a sin against chastity, as much as if he violated the Sixth Commandment.

As I get the picture of your marriage problem, you are hurt justifiably by your husband's treason to emotional integrity, in those situations when he tries to establish a current of flirtatious awareness between himself and a good looking stranger.

Let's put it this way—if John's habit of staring at pretty girls is disturbing to you, he should be aware of that; and in loving kindness he should discipline himself to curb or cut out the practice.

The married man who insistently indulges himself in this brand of bad manners is revealing, to discerning observers, his obscure sense of social inadequacy. Because of this neurotic handicap, he is always passing the hat, figuratively speaking, for reassurance that he is (or looks to be) quite a fellow.

The genuinely manly man, sure of himself in the roles of husband, lover, family provider, and a able agent in the world of affairs, casually concentrates his attention on the chosen woman in his life—and leaves the marginal might-have-beens entirely out of the reckoning. But your husband hasn't matured up to that plane of composure as yet.

My advice is to try to get this problem into the open for healing discussion. To fortify your own sound sense of propriety in the matter, you might read "Life Together" (Sheed Ward) by Wingfield Hope.

Lockbourne AFB Is 'Campus' For Summer ROTC Trainees

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It takes a lot of marching, a little judo and jet flying, and an idea borrowed from college social fraternities, but they're separating the military men from the college boys here.

"Here" is Lockbourne Air Force Base, one of several bases whose facilities are being used in the ROTC summer training program. "They" are a 16-officer faculty, mostly men who have been serving as college ROTC instructors, commanded by a lieutenant colonel from Lockbourne and assisted by nine sergeants.

The college boys are ROTC—Reserve Officer Training Corps—cadets, 20-and-21-year-olds from 37 colleges and universities between New England and New Mexico. Most will start their last year of college in the fall. A few have already completed four years.

Within a year, the Air Force hopes most will graduate and be commissioned second lieutenants. The latter depends to a considerable extent on their performance during the four weeks here.

For three (and sometimes four) years they've attended officer-taught ROTC classes. After the first two years, they volunteered for the last two years of the program and were selected after careful screening.

The four weeks here are designed to open their eyes to what air base life is really like. To help the adjustment, the faculty has borrowed an idea from college fraternities.

It's the buddy system, the idea of having "big brothers"—fellows who have been through both ROTC and Air Force active duty—show cadets the ropes. Twenty-eight such ROTC graduate officers are helping the 241 college men who reported last week.

Since they reported, cadets have been working a 15-hour day, rising at 5:20 a. m. and hitting the sack at 9 p. m. There's some class-room instruction, but most is the see-it-for-yourself variety.

This is the week they've been looking forward to. Each gets a half-hour jet ride in a two-seat T33 trainer.

Before camp closes July 13, they will have flown with the aircrew of a four-engine KC97 tanker plane on a 5-to-7-hour mission to refuel a jet bomber. They'll also fly to Florida to see a demonstration of Air Force weapons, and the outstanding flight—about 27 cadets—will ride in the new KC135 jet tanker at the close of camp.

In the four weeks, each will have served in a position of command and each will have spent two days at a special survival training camp in the rough country around Nelsonville, Ohio. There, cadets will have to provide their own meals and shelter—just as they might if forced down—and find their way to civilization.

Although paid the salary of basic airmen—$78 for the four weeks—cadets have a status somewhere between enlisted and officer rank. Enlisted men do not salute them, but cadets must salute officers.

Upon satisfactory completion of the four weeks—cadets can be washed out of the program by a board of officers for failing to meet standards—they receive a certificate of completion. There are no grades, no tests. But an evaluation of each cadet's potential is forwarded to the ROTC detachment at his school.

Once they've completed the program and gotten their college diplomas, cadets serve a minimum of five years as Air Force officers if they fly, three years if they do not earn pilots' or navigators' wings.

The Air Force of course hopes that what they see this summer and their subsequent experience on active duty will convince them they should make a career of it.

Mighty Yankees Wake Up, Whack Baffling Tigers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Just when the Detroit pitching staff was to be knighted for outstanding service to the American League race, the Yankees woke up.

New York had scored only one run in 37 innings against baffling Tiger pitching and lost seven straight to Detroit. Then the Yanks cut loose Sunday with a 16-hit blast in a 15-0 rout.

Don Larsen had a two-hitter for his third shutout and sixth victory. After Billy Martin singled in the second, Larsen retired 16 Tiger batters in succession before Gail Harris singled in the seventh.

The second-place Kansas City Athletics topped Boston again 2-1 with the help of a game-saving catch by Hector Lopez on a drive by Jackie Jensen. Jack Urban outpitched Tom Brewer in a tight battle.

Cleveland broke out of a four-game losing streak by taking a pair from Washington 4-3 and 1-0. Minnie Minoos hit a home run in each game, deciding the second in favor of Jim Grant over Hal Griggs.

Baltimore climbed out of the cellar when Billy O'Dell turned in a six-hit shutout of Chicago 2-0, his eighth victory.

Sal Maglie, 41, returned to the old familiar National League surroundings and pitched St. Louis to a 2-1 edge over Milwaukee. San Francisco beat Philadelphia 5-4 in 14 innings on Willie Kirkland's home run.

Los Angeles took a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 4-1 and 3-2. Gus Bell's grand-slam homer gave Cincinnati a 6-2 opening victory over Chicago but the Cubs staged a three-run rally in the ninth to take the second 8-6.

The Yanks knocked out Billy Hoef in the first inning when they scored six and went on another six-run binge in the eighth against Herb Moford and Vito Valentineti. Gil McDougald had two doubles and a pair of singles, Tony Kubek three singles and Elston Howard a two-run homer and a double.

At Kansas City, Lopez dashed into right center to snare Jensen's drive in the eighth with Pete Runnels on third base and the score tied. Lopez's single scored the winning run in the last of the eighth, after Preston Ward and Bob Cerv singled.

Cleveland came up with three runs in the fifth inning to win the opener for Ray Narleski, his ninth, although Don Mossi finished up.

Sal Maglie was kidding when he said, "I'll show 'em."

The 41-year-old right-hander was peeved when the New York Yankees shunted him to St. Louis June 14 to make room for a 39-year-old man—Virgil Trucks.

Freddie Hutchinson, Sal's new boss with the Cardinals, gave The Barber a starting chance Sunday against Milwaukee and was rewarded with a 2-1 victory.

Maglie showed signs of weariness in the sixth and seventh so Hutch sent up Irv Noren to bat for him in the eighth inning. Larry Jackson, a workhorse both on relief and starting, retired the last six Braves in a row.

The defeat cut the Braves' National League lead to 1½ games as San Francisco beat the Phillies 5-4 in 14 innings on a homer by Willie Kirkland. The Giants also

Local Horses Get 2 Firsts In Hilliards Competition

Local pacers and trotters made a fine showing Saturday night at Hilliards Raceway as two horses scored firsts and a third horse showed.

Jimmy Mace piloted Jerry H to victory in the A-B Handicap Pace, taking third position in the first heat in 2:07.2 and coming back for a first in the second heat in 2:08. The winner of the first heat, Mel Stout, placed fourth in the second go-around, therefore Jerry H was declared winner of the $1,400 purse. Winners receive half of the purse money.

Mace also drove Virginia's Dream to its first victory of the Hilliards season in the final race of the evening, a 26 Class Pace. Time was 2:12.4. Virginia's Dream defeated two other county owned and trained horses, Go Pilot (P. Martin), who placed fifth, and Maynard Volo (R. Strous), finishing last.

Edna H, driven by Porter Martin, placed seventh in the C Classifed Trot. The winning time was 2:11.

Kroll's 4-hole total was 211, two strokes better than Bolt and Jack Fleck, Rochester, Mich. Fleck fired a 69 Sunday.

Gonzales Tops Field in Pro Tennis Meet

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Pancho Gonzales figures he can rule professional tennis ranks for five or six more years, but he wants to set his own pace.

That's one reason he is at odds with promoter Jack Kramer, who offered over the weekend to sell Pancho's contract "for a reasonable price." The contract runs through April, 1962.

"I'm just 30 and I know I have some years of good tennis in me although these kids are coming along fast," the swarthy Californian said today, after taking the undisputed lead in the Tournament of Champions.

Kramer wants Gonzales to accompany his troupe to Europe in July. Gonzales is balking.

Gonzales proved himself still king of the pros at the West Side Tennis Club Sunday when he won a grueling match from Ken Rose-wall of Australia, seven years his junior, 19-17, 5-7, 6-4.

The victory gave Pancho a 4-0 score in the round robin standings, the only unbeaten player in the field. Rosewall, unbeaten until he met Gonzales, is 4-1 and Lew Hoad is 3-1.

Tonight Gonzales plays Frank Sedgman of Australia, who has won in their last two meetings, and Rosewall plays his old tennis twin, Hoad. Tuesday night Gonzales and Hoad clash in the tournament's climactic battle.

5 Persons Hurt At Dayton Races

DAYTON (AP)—Five persons, including two spectators, wound up in a hospital after Sunday's 150-mile new car race at Dayton Speedway.

The spectators, Mrs. Joan Waters, 30, Rt. 1, Cleves, and her son, Richard, 3, were cut by flying glass from the shattered windshield of one of three autos involved in accidents.

Jack Farris, 30, of New Paris, and George Henderson, 32, of Mansfield, were injured when their cars went off the track.

Chest Williams, 35, of Detroit, received a cut forehead when his car slammed into a guard rail.

Darel Dieringer of Indianapolis won the race for a $1,250 prize.

OPERATION TIM TAM—It may be months before it is known whether Tim Tam, the Derby and Preakness winner, ever will run again. But the operation for removal of a bone chip in his right front leg, performed in Philadelphia, was termed a success. Tim Tam stands (top) after the operation while (below) he is receiving oxygen needed to bring him out of anesthesia. (UPI Telephoto)

OSU's Glenn Davis Claims Trio of World Track Titles

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—Versatility marks the track career of Glenn Davis since high school days. So it comes as no surprise that today the 23-year-old Ohio State senior lays claim to three world titles.

As a senior at Barborton High School in Ohio, Davis captured the state title as a one-man track team with victories in the low hurdles, 220 and broad jump.

As a sophomore at Ohio State he put his name on the world record list for the first time by running the 400 meters in 49.5 seconds at the final U.S. Olympic tryouts in Los Angeles June 29, 1956.

He went on to win the Olympic gold medal and share the Olympic record at 50.1.

Next came the Big Ten meet of the year and the fleet 6-footer flashed to a 440-yard dash victory in 45.8 seconds, equalling the world record.

In the national collegiate championships at Berkeley, Davis bettered the record with 45.7, a time virtually certain to be recognized since all conditions for an international standard were met.

Then last Friday night at the National AAU meet, Davis took charge of the 440-yard hurdles to win in 49.9 seconds and better the 50.7 world record by G. C. Potgieter of South Africa and also the 50.5 by Josh Culbreath of the Philadelphia Pioneer Club, which awaits recognition.

Next for Davis comes the AAU trip to Russia where he may run the quarter both on the flat and over the hurdles.

After that Davis plans to finish his studies at Ohio State and begin selling automobiles for a living. But he'll stay in shape, aiming at another gold medal in the 1960 Olympics.

"That race last Friday was only the second 440-yard hurdles I'd run competitively," he said. "And I don't exactly remember where the first one was. I think it was at Quantico."

The Top Hat nine is scheduled for a doubleheader here Saturday night with Anchor Hocking of Lancaster. It will be an Eastern Ohio Fastball League meeting.

Sunday night the locals go to Chillicothe for a game with River Oil.

Dag Confers With Nasser

U.N. Diplomat Seeks Peace in Lebanon

CAIRO (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld pressed his campaign to quiet the Lebanese rebellion with President Nasser and the government of the United Arab Republic today.

Hammarskjöld met with Nasser Sunday night a few hours after arriving from Amman and Jerusalem. He left Beirut Saturday after talks with the Lebanese government on their charges that Nasser has sent arms and men across the Syria-Lebanon border to aid the rebels.

Informed sources said U. A. R. officials would warn Hammarskjöld against foreign interference in Lebanon and insist once more that their government is not aiding the rebels. Nasser contends that the Lebanese crisis is completely internal, and that pro-Western President Camille Chamoun is seeking a pretext for the United States and Britain to send troops to his aid.

Hammarskjöld is to return to Beirut Tuesday and leave for New York the next day.

U. N. HEADQUARTERS in New York announced that the United States was providing two helicopters and Sweden four light observation planes for the use of the U. N. observer group the Security Council has sent to Lebanon to check on any infiltrations from Syria.

In Lebanon, meanwhile, the U.N. mission planned to establish a watchdog team today in the strategic Bekaa border area despite go-slow warnings from rebel leaders in the area.

Observers turned back from the Bekaa Valley Saturday but Col. Maurice Brown, the New Zealand senior officer with the mission denied reports the rebels had prevented them from taking up positions there.

Brown said the local rebel chief had told the U.N. officers they should not try to get to the border too soon.

South Texas Gets Heavy Downpours

DALLAS (AP)—Downpours ranging up to nearly 7 inches brought new flood threats to south Texas today as a mass of cold air set off thundershowers over most of the state.

Nine persons were rescued by firemen and police from flooded streets at San Antonio after a violent storm dumped 4.50 inches on the city.

Driving rains and winds up to 80 m.p.h. carved a path 10 miles long and several miles wide through croplands near Runge, 60 miles southeast of San Antonio.

The heaviest rainfall (6.25 inches) was at Orange but caused no appreciable damage.

FOR SPEEDIER SERVICE — New mail slots at the Circleville Post Office are designed to speed the handling of outgoing mail. Here Carolyn Walters, 13, daughter of Postmaster Charles Walters, puts some mail in one of five new slots at the postoffice. Formerly there were three slots and one package chute. The new setup has five slots, four of which will take bundled mail. Walters say the new arrangement will facilitate mail handling, especially if mailers bundle the mail and place it in the proper slot. (Staff Photo)

People Living On 'Borrowed' Time, Belief

CLEVELAND (AP)—"If there ever was a people who lived on borrowed time, we are that people," Dr. Francis D. Nichol of Washington today told Seventh-Day Adventists here for the denomination's 48th quadrennial world conference.

Nichol, editor of the Review and Herald, the denomination's official paper, told delegates at a morning devotional study that "by the very logic of our interpretation of scripture, we are right now borrowing time from eternity."

He spoke on the nearness of the end of the world and reviewed some of the predictions which he said were publicly branded as nonsense until a few decades ago.

"Take for example our startling prediction of great wars ahead," the editor continued. "For long years that prediction seemed like an idle tale. Two world wars have alerted the public thinking on that point and in this atomic age we hear frightened scientists and many others beginning to use a phrase that formerly appeared to be the monopoly of Adventist preachers—the end of the world."

Nichol said the most important proof to him that "the day of the Lord is near is that for the first time in history, the world faces not only the possibility, but the absolute certainty that unless human folly is soon checked mankind will blot itself from the earth."

Dag Confers With Nasser

U.N. Diplomat Seeks Peace in Lebanon

CAIRO (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld pressed his campaign to quiet the Lebanese rebellion with President Nasser and the government of the United Arab Republic today.

Hammarskjöld met with Nasser Sunday night a few hours after arriving from Amman and Jerusalem. He left Beirut Saturday after talks with the Lebanese government on their charges that Nasser has sent arms and men across the Syria-Lebanon border to aid the rebels.

Informed sources said U. A. R. officials would warn Hammarskjöld against foreign interference in Lebanon and insist once more that their government is not aiding the rebels. Nasser contends that the Lebanese crisis is completely internal, and that pro-Western President Camille Chamoun is seeking a pretext for the United States and Britain to send troops to his aid.

Hammarskjöld is to return to Beirut Tuesday and leave for New York the next day.

U. N. HEADQUARTERS in New York announced that the United States was providing two helicopters and Sweden four light observation planes for the use of the U. N. observer group the Security Council has sent to Lebanon to check on any infiltrations from Syria.

In Lebanon, meanwhile, the U.N. mission planned to establish a watchdog team today in the strategic Bekaa border area despite go-slow warnings from rebel leaders in the area.

Observers turned back from the Bekaa Valley Saturday but Col. Maurice Brown, the New Zealand senior officer with the mission denied reports the rebels had prevented them forcibly from taking up positions there.

Brown said the local rebel chief had told the U.N. officers they should not try to get to the border too soon.

Driving rains and winds up to 80 m.p.h. carved a path 10 miles long and several miles wide through croplands near Runge, 60 miles southeast of San Antonio.

The heaviest rainfall (6.25 inches) was at Orange but caused no appreciable damage.
